

Cleveland Street Voices

Street Voices is made up of trained homeless and formerly homeless individuals who want to share their stories with the community. With each unique tale, their goal is to expose the community to the real face of homelessness, break down stereotypes and inspire people of different ages and backgrounds to serve and get involved in social justice.

Our Street Voices program has been in existence for 10 years. Our speakers have told their stories to many schools, churches and faith based organizations on a regular basis across Cleveland and Northeast Ohio.
